

PLANNING BOARD WILL WORK WITH PARK COMMITTEE

Suggestion Made for Ordinance Providing for Working Relationship

At a meeting of the city planning commission held in conjunction with the committee on the supervisors on parks, schools and playgrounds this morning in the assembly room at the city hall Mayor Lane was asked informally by the commission to draw up a resolution providing for the closer working relationship of the commission and the park committee. Though the mayor did not state that he would carry out the suggestion, it is believed that he will, and that the resolution will probably be brought up at a meeting of the supervisors.

Mayor Lane was in the chair at the meeting this morning, and Mrs. J. M. Dewett, chairman of the planning commission, was unable to be present. Immediately after the meeting had convened, the mayor called upon both Supervisors B. F. Hollinger and Robert Horner for a statement of views from the standpoint of the park and playground committee.

Mr. Hollinger stated that some of the views of the committee did not exactly correspond with those held by the planning commission, especially in regard to the proposed zoo at Kapiolani park. He said that some of the cages were already in course of construction when he learned that other plans for their placing had been made by the commission, and that he thought it best for the two bodies to get together to talk over the work before any more was done.

Members of the planning commission then explained the proposed plans to Mr. Hollinger, who stated that he thought the changes which will have to be made by the park committee are very slight, and that he is willing to make them in accord with those of the commission.

Several general ideas were brought forth at the meeting this morning. The question of placing on Maunaloa and a primitive Hawaiian village with grass huts and all the implements typical of old Hawaii, was mentioned. This is one of Mayor Lane's favorite projects.

It was also mentioned that a strip of land forming the outside border of the McKinley high school campus was becoming so hard by the tramping of many feet that it would probably need to be plowed or scarified. Supervisor Hollinger stated that he would be glad to take up the matter at once.

Mrs. Lowrey, who mentioned the plan, spoke of the treatment which had been given to the executive lawn at the instance of the Outdoor Circle, and of the great improvement that has followed in the condition there. It is planned to take the sod up so that it may be replaced afterward. A hedge may also be placed on the border of the campus. Several other school grounds are said to be in need of similar treatment.

Prior to the meeting today, Mrs. Lowrey asked Delegate J. K. Kalani, one of the members of the commission, if it would be possible to have a large number of flower and vegetable spots sent from Washington to the Outdoor Circle direct for distribution to children, who will be asked to take part in the flower show on the first Thursday after Easter. It is believed that these will be available, the delegate stating that he will be glad to see what can be done to secure them. Today's meeting was the third held by the commission this week.

BRIGHTER CHILDREN

Children are probably brighter today than a generation ago—but are they stronger? That's a grave question. So many pinched faces, dulled eyes and languid feelings make us wonder if they will ever grow into robust, healthy men and women.

If your children catch colds easily, are tired when rising, lack healthy color, or find studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion for one month to enrich their blood and restore the body forces to healthy action.

Scott's Emulsion is used in private schools. It is not a "patent medicine," simply a highly concentrated oil-food, without alcohol or harmful drugs. It cannot harm; it improves blood, it feeds the lungs and strengthens the system. Your druggist has it—refuse substitutes.

TRANSIT SYSTEM COST MORE THAN $2,000,000 NOW

C. G. Ballentyne Gave Detailed Figures Yesterday Afternoon; No Trial Today

The admitted vital issue in the territory's injunction suit against the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company, which is a determination of the cost to date of the corporation's system, was brought to light during a session of the trial yesterday afternoon when Manager Clinton G. Ballentyne, called by the territory as a witness, testified that, to April 30 of this year, the Rapid Transit has expended $2,171,976.11 for and on its plant.

Manager Ballentyne testified regarding the capital expenditures of the Rapid Transit, including money paid out on track and roadway, overhead structures, cars, trucks and motors, power plant, buildings and fixtures, equipment and tools and supplies.

The total expenditures for these items, dating from 1900 to April 30, 1915, are, according to his testimony, as follows:

1900, 1901, 1902, $856,749.21; 1903, $113,496.09; 1904, $266,424.44; 1905, $22,108.56; 1906, $7355.27; 1907, $17,776.61; 1908, $15,653.83; 1909, $35,464.19; 1910, $202,197.90; 1911, $110,761.83; 1912, $59,887.25; 1913, $63,856.97; 1914, $20,800.19; 1915 (to April 30), $1889.10. Total, $1,837,401.74.

Special accounts applying to construction, which were distributed in 1904; the purchase of the Hawaiian Tramway Company and the Pearl Harbor projects bring the foregoing total to $2,171,976.11.

There was no trial of the case today, owing to the fact that Circuit Judge Stuart is ill at his home with neuritis. Providing Judge Stuart recovers sufficiently to be in court next week, the case will be resumed at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

K BOATS FOLLOW F FLOTILLA OUT TO SAY FAREWELL

clad in blue overall suits and wearing white caps, standing on deck.

The F-2 came second, about 100 yards after the F-3, and the F-1 was third in line. She went slowly, until she saw that she was not making as good time as the other boats, then she speeded up and tore through the water at about 10 knots, until she had caught up with the F-2 and F-3.

All Saluted Except Tenyo. As the submarines moved down the channel, hundreds of persons waved handkerchiefs in farewell while all the ships in port except the Tenyo Maru, which had docked a few minutes before, blew three blasts of their whistles in token of the F flotilla's departure. The submarine tender Alert was crowded with wives and families of officers of the departing ships.

After the three submarines had passed Port Armstrong, the Maryland backed away from her slip at the navy dock and to the accompaniment of brisk selections played by the 2d Infantry band, under the leadership of Chief Musician Nicholas Novak, slid out into the stream and turned around, the naval tug Iroquois helping tow the floating fortress so that her bow headed down the channel.

When the three towing vessels gained the open sea, they put towing lines aboard the F-1, F-2 and F-3 and after a few minutes the six vessels started, each ship towing one submarine. The four K boats, lined up in a row, followed the F flotilla as it grew smaller in the distance toward Diamond Head, then returned to port.

A stop will be made at Hilo unless the sea is too rough, which is not anticipated. The Maryland's crew, to the number of 150, will go from Hilo to the volcano, leaving Hilo in the morning and returning the same night. They will have about five hours at the volcano.

On board the Maryland, making the trip to San Francisco are, in addition to Capt. Surpner E. W. Kittles and the ship's regular officers, Cmdr. F. N. Freeman, who made the trip over in the K-7 for the experience; and Lieut. K. B. Crittenden, commanding the F flotilla. The following army officers were taken because there is no room in the transport: Maj. Ralph Harrison, Capt. William G. Doane, 1st Lieut. George W. Harris, 1st Lieut. Irving J. Phillips, 2d Lieut. Raymond Morris, 2d Lieut. Carl Spatz and 2d Lieut. Sheldon H. Wheeler.

Motion pictures of the entire departure, showing the submarines leaving and the Maryland and Iroquois following them out, were taken by R. L. Noggle and will be incorporated in the Pathe Weekly of current events. The Maryland's goat was almost the last of the crew to go aboard. He hid under the forward gangway to get out of the drizzling rain which was falling at that time and had to be persuaded on board quite strenuously.

DANCE TO RAISE FUNDS TO GIVE ROYAL WELCOME

National Guard Needs Support in Plans for Reception of Hawaii's Crack Shots

Lei bedecked heroes from a carriageless strife will return to Honolulu the morning of November 23, in the good ship Wilhelmnia. The particular heroes will be Sgt. T. J. K. Evans, Company A, N. G. H., champion individual rifle shot of the United States; and Sgt. Ho of the Chinese company, N. G. H., who finished 26th in this grilling tournament.

The returning National Guard rifle team will be decorated with leis in the stream, a committee from the non-commissioned officers club having been chosen to go out in a launch and attend to this little ceremony. When the Wilhelmnia docks the 1st Regiment band will be on the dock to dole out "See, the Conquering Hero Comes" and like martial music. Also, there will be on hand two companies from the National Guard to act as an escort to the men, who have made a name for Hawaii during the recent tournament at Jacksonville.

Under escort of the two companies of guards the champions will be led to the capital when Governor L. B. Pinham, commander-in-chief of the guard, will present to 1st Sgt. Evans and Ho tokens of remembrance from their fellows of the 1st Infantry, N. G. H. In the evening a smoker will be given at the armory to which the entire personnel of the guard will be invited.

These plans are subject to the loyalty and support of Honoluluans to the big dance to be given by the non-coms club at the armory tomorrow night. This dance has been arranged for the purpose of raising funds to above the representation of Honolulu for the work of her riflemen. Tickets are on sale at the armory, the price being 50 cents each. Each ticket will admit a gentleman and as many ladies as he cares to buy tickets for. Phone 1624 should be used liberally, that being the armory number.

Friday, November 26, will be Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company Day at the exposition. A unique program has been arranged for that date when the Great Northern will start on her first trip to Honolulu. Daylight fireworks will be held on the Marina, and as the Great Northern passes the exposition grounds bombs will be fired in honor of the first schedule trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

The liner will be decorated from stem to stern as she passes the Marina, and the exposition officials have arranged to have an aviator fly over the ship as she passes, and toward the Golden Gate. The aviator will carry a message from C. C. Moore, president of the exposition, wishing the passengers a pleasant trip.

The reception planned for Baron E. Shibuzawa and party, which was to have been held Tuesday evening at the Oahu Country Club, has been changed to Monday evening, as the Shinyo Maru will arrive in Honolulu Monday morning, one day ahead of schedule. Arrangements have been made by the committee for a reception and the Chamber of Commerce, Yokohama Specie Bank, Mayor Lane and the Japanese Merchants Association will act as hosts. Prominent citizens of Honolulu will be asked to attend the reception in honor of the Japanese financier.

NATURALIZATION DAY IN COURT TOMORROW

Tomorrow will be naturalization day in the local federal court, and the big American flag, presented by the Sons of the American Revolution, will be given another chance to play a part in the proceedings of the tribunal. The names of the following persons appear on the naturalization calendar:

Rupert Matthews, native of Newfoundland; Allen William Thompson Bottomley, native of Scotland; Frank Thyrman, native of Germany; Friedrich W. Clausen, native of Germany; Patrick McDonough, native of Ireland; Frederick A. Olund, native of Denmark; Henry V. D. Fuss, native of Germany.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—L. M. WHITEHOUSE: We will begin scarifying Kalakaua avenue on the first of November, and after this is done we will haul in coral from Palama district. I count on the work taking about four or five weeks.

—L. DE VIS NORTON: I have received many inquiries from army officers regarding the roads on Hawaii. A number of officers have signified their intention of making the trip to Hilo and other points and it is certain that a number will visit the Puna section where may be found a number of old craters and other interesting scenes.

SAYS GANGSTERS PULLED OFF DOPE DEAL FROM JAIL

istance, it is alleged, of a fireman on one of the Pacific Mail steamships who knew how to get the "dope" ashore, and also of a Chinese merchant of Honolulu whose name is given by Gough and who is said to have been the "main guy" in buying the poppy extract from the smugglers. Gough, in the persons of certain back-drivers and bartenders, it is related, helped to facilitate the matter by acting as the messengers between the various parties. These go-betweens had free access to the prisoners and would run their errands at all hours of the day or night.

Gough's recital of this particular feat ascribed to the gangsters when they were supposed to be under strict guard is as follows:

"The deal was cooked up by Jack McGrath and Bert Bower in the jail and by one of the petty officers of the Pacific Mail line (name given) who was one of the principal chaps in the handling of dope across the Pacific. He had several men of the crews working for him apparently.

"They had several systems of getting the stuff ashore. Sometimes they could slip off the ship with it. At other times they would drop it overboard some miles from the harbor as a ship came in or went out. When dropped overboard, they used to have an empty tin can with a long wire or string attached to it and this can would be the buoy marking where the stuff was sunk. At night, after the dope had been sunk, the boys used to go out in a sampun and pick it up and for this purpose they had a sampun run by a chap who would keep quiet about his job.

"On this particular deal, pulled off while the boys were in jail, the dope was sent ashore from a Pacific Mail steamer by a fireman. As soon as he got ashore, I guess he got word to one of the go-betweens for (name given) came up to the jail, walked in to the hospital as usual and said to the boys, 'That jam's arrived all right.'

"They talked it over a little, always using the word 'jam' or 'junk'—mostly 'jam' and winking and laughing when they said it.

"That night Jack and Bert (McGrath and Bower) went out through the bathroom window and over the fence. They got the stuff from who ever had it for them and brought it home that same night. Half of it was left in the house near the hospital, the other half brought inside. I saw it myself and there was very little if any attempt to conceal it.

"Next day the boys phoned to Sheriff Rose that they wanted to get out and hunt for food—at this time they were in there unable to raise the bond. It used to be a constant excuse for their getting out in the day-time that they wanted to hunt for food money. They were allowed to go out.

"They then wrapped the dope up in some dirty clothes ready for washing and went out with a parcel under each arm.

"There was an auto outside driven by a Portuguese—this fellow did a lot of work for them. So they went out and sold the dope to a Chinaman on Nuuanu street (name given) and came back that night with any amount of money.

"When talking it over the night before they said they had about $1000 worth of the stuff. After it was sold the money was divided on the table. Then the gambling began and it ran high as long as the lopers had anything to put up."

Sharp Enters Denial. A story in a morning paper today reporting that Deputy County Sheriff Julius W. Asch had been told in San Francisco by Raymer Sharp, deputy collector of customs, that the latter knew where John J. McGrath was and could place hands on him in less than an hour, was denied today by Mr. Sharp.

"I had a casual talk with Mr. Asch at the Hawaii building at the San Francisco exposition," said Mr. Sharp this afternoon, "but McGrath's name was never mentioned. I did not see McGrath, and if I had I would have been the first to take steps leading to his arrest, because he was badly wanted then for opium deals in this city."

AFTER SERVICES ON SUNDAY HULA DELIGHTS JAIL?

Women Friends of Prisoners Come in for an Afternoon of Fun, Says Former Inmate

Do they do the hula at the city and county jail after Sunday services? No one can—or will—answer the question. But at least one man who has done a term in the jail says they have hula dances there, and that prisoners and women friends enjoy the Sunday afternoons inside the "jug" with the utmost freedom.

The former prisoner who tells the story refuses to have his name used, for obvious reasons. But this is what he said:

"Every Sunday, after services are over, the women friends of prisoners have been admitted to the jail. At least the women friends of some prisoners have. And with their advent

SHIPPING TIUP TO ORIENT SOON THING OF PAST

American Express Company so Confident it is Opening Offices in Far East

Believing that the present disorganized condition of shipping facilities between San Francisco, Honolulu and the Orient is only temporary, and that within the next six months there will be plenty of steamers available, the American Express Company will next month establish its own offices in Manila and Hongkong.

This news was brought to Honolulu today by R. A. Foulkes, general foreign agent of the big corporation, who arrived on the Tenyo Maru and sails again at 5 this afternoon for the Orient, to establish American Express offices in Manila and Hongkong, something never before done by any United States express concern.

Mr. Foulkes was met at Pier 7 when the boat docked, by James H. Love of the City Transfer Company, Honolulu agents for the American Express Company. Mr. Foulkes, his wife and boy were shown around the city.

"I was here last year, and I am glad to be in Honolulu again," said the express official.

"Your city's beauty and prosperity always make me want to return again. That is no 'hot air,' either. I mean it."

Two Agents With Him.

Accompanying Mr. Foulkes to the Orient are W. H. Geagan, who will be general agent at the Manila office as soon as it is established, and Robert Buchanan, who will act in the same capacity for the new Hongkong office.

"I don't anticipate that either office will make any money right away for us," observed Mr. Foulkes, "but we have become so tired of unsatisfactory service from correspondents that we have decided to establish offices of our own, something no American express firm has ever done before in the Orient."

"I am sure," he continued, "that within the next few months there will be sufficient ships running between San Francisco, Honolulu and the Orient to take care of not only express and freight business, but passenger trade as well. The present congestion and disorganization are only temporary. We know they will not last any length of time."

So enthusiastic a booster for Hawaii is Mr. Foulkes that he has worn for the last year, ever since he was here last, a little Hawaii button presented him by the Hawaii Promotion Committee.

In the last 12 months, Mr. Foulkes and his Hawaii button have been in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Seattle—in fact almost every city of importance in the country. Everywhere he went he gave Honolulu unstinted praise when people asked him what the button meant.

"I return to Honolulu, even though for a day, with a great deal of pleasure," said Mr. Foulkes this morning, as he walked down the Tenyo Maru's gangway at Pier 7. "I have been a regular Hawaii booster, and that little button the Promotion Committee gave me has done a tremendous lot of missionary work for the islands."

DAVIS OUT FOR FEDERAL COURT CLERK'S PLACE

It is expected now that three or four days will elapse before Federal Judge Sanford B. Dole and Charles F. Clements reach a decision as to who shall be appointed to succeed the late Augustus Edwards Murphy as clerk of the local United States district court. Mr. Murphy died last Tuesday and was buried the following day.

According to rumors which are making their way about in federal court circles, Foster L. Davis, first deputy clerk, is being strongly considered for the chief clerkship. Mr. Davis has had several years' experience in the office, and is declared to be unusually well qualified for the bigger position. Melville T. Simonson, Joseph G. Pratt, Job Batchelor and George Clark, former second deputy clerk, were reported today as being among the other applicants for the position. It was also reported that Palmer P. Woods has entered the running. The chief clerk of the federal court is appointed by the judges. The clerk appoints two deputies, with the approval of the judges.

began a carnival of laughter, and sometimes love.

"They all danced the hula with abandon, and kept it up until they tired. The jailers made no objection, and there was little restraint. Of course, I suppose since the recent story printed in the Star-Bulletin they will not dance the hula at the jail any more—for a time at least."

MISS IRENE MARY has accepted a position as stenographer in the department of public works at the capitol building.

Robert E. Faulkner filed in circuit court today a suit for divorce against Elizabeth J. Faulkner. Faulkner charges that his wife is guilty of having committed a statutory offense, and names one William Bennett as the third party in the matter.

FALLS DEAD ON STREET WHILE WALKING HOME

M. Foster, Painter, Suddenly Stricken; Complained of Pain Across Chest

M. Foster, a painter, residing at 1365 Pua lane, dropped dead on the street this morning while on his way home from work at the Capitol building. Foster had gone to work as usual with the painting squad at the Capitol, but was complaining of a severe pain across his chest, and was finally induced by fellow workmen to return home. It is said that he was on his way home when he fell.

According to men working with Foster at the Capitol building this is the second attack that he has had in the last few days. The other came on him last Wednesday while he was at work.

"Foster was at work this morning as usual," said the man who was next to him when he was stricken, "but was complaining of a severe pain across his chest. This pain finally became so severe that he advised him to go home and lie down. A brother was here with him, but none of us thought of it being so serious, and so we let him start out alone. The first we knew of his death was when someone ran in from the street for his brother."

Foster was married and lived at 1365 Pua lane. He is said to have been about 25 years of age, and was of good health except for these attacks. He was a painter by trade.

WORK SO HEAVY HALL FORCED TO SIT UP NIGHTS

Unless some unforeseen happening comes along to change things materially, Supervisor Daniel Logan's resolution which provides for the purchase of a $3500 Packard ambulance for the city will pass third reading when introduced tonight to the board members. Supervisor Hollinger opposed the resolution on its second reading last Saturday, and it is possible that Mr. Hollinger will have some argument against it tonight. All of the other supervisors favor the resolution. Hollinger's contention is that the car is not of recent enough model, and that a more up-to-date machine should be purchased by the city. Engineer L. M. Whitehouse will introduce a recommendation tonight for an increase in the salary of W. A. Hall, clerk for outside districts, whose work has been materially augmented by the new plans for activity on the Koolaukopo road. The engineer suggests that the present salary of $125 be raised to $150, stating that the clerk now has to sit up nights to get through all of his papers.

It is also suggested by the engineer that $150 be appropriated by resolution for the wooden trestle bridge over the Kaneohe stream. The bridge is now in a dangerous condition and is in need of immediate repair.
